

Life in the UK

The facts you have to know

Every examinable fact from the five chapters of the official handbook — the only source the 24 questions are drawn from. The application process is deliberately left out: this sheet is the knowledge, not the paperwork. Facts follow the handbook, including where the country has since moved on.

4. Values and principles
11 facts

8. Government and the law
55 facts

Ch. 1 — Values and principles

Cap. 1 — Valori e principi

4.1 The fundamental values

- Democracy — representative government
- The rule of law — the law applies to everyone, government included
- Individual liberty
- Tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs
- Participation in community life

These five values reappear verbatim in the ceremony pledge and in British public rhetoric ("British values"). Worth memorising in order.

4.2 Rights and responsibilities

Rights · Freedom of speech and expression; freedom of belief and religion; a fair trial; freedom from unfair discrimination; the right to vote (for citizens)

Responsibilities · Respect and obey the law; respect the rights of others, including their opinions; treat everyone fairly; look after yourself and your family; look after the area you live in and the environment

The handbook insists rights and responsibilities are two sides of one coin: applying for citizenship means accepting both.

4.3 Oath and pledge

Oath (or affirmation for those who do not swear on scripture): loyalty to His Majesty the King, his heirs and successors, according to law.

Pledge: "I will give my loyalty to the United Kingdom and respect its rights and freedoms. I will uphold its democratic values. I will observe its laws faithfully and fulfil my duties and obligations as a British citizen."

Ch. 2 — What is the UK?

Cap. 2 — Cos'è il Regno Unito

5.1 The four nations

United Kingdom · England, Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland — full name: United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland

Great Britain · England, Scotland and Wales only (the large island)

Crown dependencies · The Channel Islands and the Isle of Man: linked to the Crown but not part of the UK

Overseas territories · St Helena, the Falklands, Gibraltar...: linked to the UK, not part of it

Capitals · London (UK and England), Edinburgh (Scotland), Cardiff (Wales), Belfast (Northern Ireland)

Population · The handbook cites about 62 million (2010/2011 census); today's ONS estimate is over 69 million. In the exam, the book's figure wins

5.2 Flags and patron saints

St David · Wales — 1 March — daffodil and leek

St Patrick · Northern Ireland — 17 March — shamrock

St George · England — 23 April — rose

St Andrew · Scotland — 30 November — thistle

• The Union Flag ("Union Jack") combines the cross of St George (red on white), St Andrew (diagonal white on blue) and St Patrick (diagonal red on white).

• Wales is not represented on the Union Flag: it was already united with England when the flag was created.

• Only 17 March and 30 November are official holidays, and only in Northern Ireland and Scotland.

5.3 Languages and currency

• English is the de facto official language; Welsh is official in Wales and taught in schools.

• Scottish Gaelic in the Highlands and islands; Scots and Ulster Scots; Irish in Northern Ireland.

• Currency: the pound sterling (£), divided into 100 pence. Notes of £5, £10, £20, £50.

• Scotland and Northern Ireland issue their own banknotes, valid across the UK though not always accepted without argument in England.

Ch. 3 — A long history

Cap. 3 — Una lunga storia

6.1 Prehistory and the Romans

10,000 years ago · Britain is still joined to the continent by a land bridge

Stone Age · Stonehenge (Wiltshire) and Skara Brae (Orkney), the best-preserved Neolithic village in northern Europe

Iron Age · The Celts; the first coins minted in Britain; hill forts such as Maiden Castle

55 BC · Julius Caesar invades unsuccessfully
AD 43 · Emperor Claudius conquers Britain, except Scotland

AD 60/61 · The revolt of Boudicca, queen of the Iceni: her statue stands on Westminster Bridge

1314 · Bannockburn: Robert the Bruce defeats the English and Scotland stays independent

1337–1453 · Hundred Years War with France; Agincourt 1415, Henry V's victory

1348 · Black Death: perhaps a third of the population dies

1455–1485 · Wars of the Roses: York (white rose) against Lancaster (red rose). Ends at Bosworth Field, 1485: Henry Tudor becomes Henry VII

6.3 Tudors and Stuarts

Henry VIII · Breaks with Rome and founds the Church of England (1534). Six wives: Catherine of Aragon, Anne Boleyn, Jane Seymour, Anne of Cleves, Catherine Howard, Catherine Parr — "divorced, beheaded, died; divorced, beheaded, survived"

Edward VI · Protestant; introduces the Book of Common Prayer

Mary I · Catholic, persecutes Protestants ("Bloody Mary")

Elizabeth I · Protestant; a long and prosperous reign; 1588: defeat of the Spanish Armada

Mary, Queen of Scots · Catholic, flees to England, imprisoned and executed in 1587

1603 · Union of the Crowns: James VI of Scotland becomes James I of England

1605 · Gunpowder Plot: Guy Fawkes tries to blow up Parliament — remembered on 5 November

1611 · King James Bible, the authorised English version

Shakespeare · 1564–1616, of Stratford-upon-Avon: the drama and poetry of the Elizabethan age

6.4 Civil War and Revolution

1642 · Civil War breaks out: Cavaliers (Royalists) against Roundheads (Parliamentarians)

1649 · Charles I executed; England becomes a republic, the Commonwealth

Oliver Cromwell · Lord Protector; a brutal campaign in Ireland

1660 · Restoration: Charles II returns to the throne

1660 · The Royal Society is founded, the oldest surviving scientific society

1665 / 1666 · The Great Plague and the Great Fire of London; St Paul's rebuilt by Christopher Wren

1679 · Habeas Corpus Act: no arbitrary detention

1688 · Glorious Revolution: William of Orange and Mary replace James II with no bloodshed in England

6.4 Civil War and Revolution (cont.)

- 1689 · Bill of Rights: Parliament must meet regularly and consent to taxes — constitutional monarchy begins
- 1707 · Act of Union: the Kingdom of Great Britain is created
- 1721 · Sir Robert Walpole, regarded as the first Prime Minister
- 1745–46 · The Jacobite rising of Bonnie Prince Charlie, crushed at Culloden; the Highland Clearances follow

6.5 Empire and Industrial Revolution

- 1801 · Act of Union with Ireland: the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland is born
- 1805 · Trafalgar: Admiral Nelson defeats the French and Spanish fleets and dies in the battle
- 1815 · Waterloo: the Duke of Wellington defeats Napoleon
- 1807 / 1833 · Abolition of the slave trade and then of slavery across the Empire; William Wilberforce leads the campaign
- Industrial Revolution · Richard Arkwright (spinning), James Watt (steam engine), Isambard Kingdom Brunel (railways, bridges, ships), George Stephenson
- 1837–1901 · The Victorian age: the British Empire covers a quarter of the globe
- 1853–56 · Crimean War; Florence Nightingale founds modern nursing
- 1851 · The Great Exhibition at the Crystal Palace, a showcase of British industry

6.6 The twentieth century

- 1913–1928 · Suffragettes led by Emmeline Pankhurst; in 1918 women over 30 with property win the vote; in 1928 equal voting at 21
- 1914–1918 · First World War; the Somme, 1916: 60,000 British casualties on the first day alone
- 1922 · The Irish Free State is created; Northern Ireland stays in the UK, which takes its present name

- 2012 · The London Olympic and Paralympic Games

After the handbook. These events postdate the 2013 book and are not examinable, but they explain the country: the Scottish referendum of 2014; the EU referendum of 2016 and leaving the Union on 31 January 2020; the Covid-19 pandemic; the death of Elizabeth II in September 2022 and the coronation of Charles III on 6 May 2023.

7 · Ch. 4 – Modern society
Ch. 4 — Modern society

Cap. 4 — Società moderna

7.1 Religion

- The census cited in the handbook (2011): about 59% Christian, 25% no religion, Muslim 4.8%, Hindu 1.5%, then Sikh, Jewish and Buddhist.
- The Church of England (Anglican) is the established church in England; the monarch is its Supreme Governor and the Archbishop of Canterbury its spiritual leader.
- In Scotland the national church is the Church of Scotland, Presbyterian, led by a Moderator elected annually.
- There is no established church in Wales or Northern Ireland.
- Freedom to practise any religion — or none — is a fundamental principle.

7.2 Festivals and traditions

- 25 December · Christmas Day: turkey lunch, Christmas pudding, the King's message
- 26 December · Boxing Day, a public holiday
- 31 December · New Year's Eve; in Scotland Hogmanay, a major festival, with 2 January also a holiday
- March/April · Easter: Good Friday and Easter Monday are holidays; before it, Lent and Shrove Tuesday (pancake day)

- Gardening: a national passion; the Chelsea Flower Show is its landmark event.

7.7 Leisure and places (cont.)

- The National Trust (1895) and English Heritage: they protect historic houses, coastline and landscape, open to the public.
- UNESCO sites named: Stonehenge, Hadrian's Wall, the Giant's Causeway (Northern Ireland), Orkney, Blenheim Palace, the Dorset and East Devon Jurassic Coast.
- Places to remember: Big Ben (the great bell in the Elizabeth Tower), Edinburgh Castle, Snowdonia, the Lake District, Loch Lomond, the London Eye.

8 · Ch. 5 – Government and the law

Ch. 5 — Government and the law

Cap. 5 — Governo e legge

8.1 The monarchy

- The UK is a constitutional monarchy: the monarch is head of state, while governing power lies with Parliament and the Government.
- The monarch is politically neutral and expresses no party views.
- Duties: opens Parliament each year (the State Opening, with the King's Speech written by the Government), meets the Prime Minister weekly, gives Royal Assent to laws, appoints the Prime Minister.
- The monarch is Supreme Governor of the Church of England and Head of the Commonwealth.
- Update: the handbook describes Elizabeth II, queen from 1952. Since September 2022 the monarch is Charles III, and exam questions about "the current king" have been updated accordingly; the Prince of Wales is now William.

8.2 Parliament

House of Commons · 650 MPs elected, one per constituency; the more powerful chamber because it is elected and controls money

House of Lords · Unelected: appointed life peers, some hereditary peers, and Church of England bishops. It revises and can delay legislation, but the Commons can have the final say

The Speaker · Chairs the Commons and is politically neutral, though an MP chosen by fellow MPs

The Crown · Royal Assent completes a law's passage

The Opposition · The second-largest party forms the shadow cabinet; its leader heads the official Opposition

Whips · Ensure party MPs vote with the line

Where · The Palace of Westminster, London

8.3 Government and Prime Minister

- The Prime Minister is the leader of the party able to command a majority in the Commons; lives at 10 Downing Street with a country house at Chequers.
- They appoint the Cabinet, around twenty senior ministers: the Chancellor of the Exchequer (economy), Home Secretary (interior and immigration), Foreign Secretary, Lord Chancellor (justice).
- Civil servants are professional officials, politically neutral and appointed on merit: they stay when the government changes.
- Local government (councils) runs schools, waste, roads and social services, funded by council tax and central grants.

- The press is free and uncensored: the handbook stresses that newspapers may openly criticise the government.

8.4 Elections and voting

- A general election at least every 5 years; the system is first past the post: whoever gets most votes in a constituency wins it.
- A by-election is held when a seat falls vacant between general elections.
- You vote at 18; in Scotland and Wales at 16 for devolved and local elections.
- You must be on the electoral register: registering is a legal duty when your household is asked.
- Polling stations open 7am to 10pm; the ballot is secret. You can vote by post or by proxy.
- Update since the handbook: since May 2023, photo ID is required to vote in person in Great Britain.
- Anyone can watch Commons and Lords debates from the public galleries, or contact their own MP.

8.5 Devolution

Scotland · The Scottish Parliament at Holyrood, Edinburgh: 129 MSPs. Powers over health, education, justice and some taxes

Wales · The Senedd Cymru / Welsh Parliament in Cardiff: 60 members. In the 2013 handbook it is still the National Assembly for Wales, renamed in 2020

Northern Ireland · The Northern Ireland Assembly at Stormont, Belfast: 90 MLAs, with power-sharing government from the Good Friday Agreement

Reserved · Kept at Westminster: defence, foreign policy, immigration, monetary policy

The devolved bodies use forms of proportional representation, not first past the post.

8.6 The justice system

Principle · Judges are independent of government and interpret the law; the presumption of innocence is the rule

Minor crimes · The Magistrates' Court in England, Wales and Northern Ireland: unpaid volunteer Justices of the Peace, usually without legal training. In Scotland: the Justice of the Peace Court

Serious crimes · The Crown Court with a jury of 12 (England, Wales, Northern Ireland); in Scotland the Sheriff Court or High Court with a jury of 15

Civil cases · The County Court for debt, contracts and divorce; the small claims procedure for low-value cases, without a lawyer

Top · The Supreme Court, since 2009, is the final court of appeal

Help · A solicitor for advice and paperwork; legal aid can cover costs for those who cannot pay

8.7 Police and rights

- The police must protect the public, prevent and investigate crime and act fairly and honestly; they answer to an elected Police and Crime Commissioner, and complaints go to the independent watchdog.
- The Equality Act 2010 prohibits discrimination on grounds of age, disability, sex, pregnancy, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, gender reassignment and marriage.

- Domestic violence, female genital mutilation, forced marriage and so-called "honour" crimes are serious offences: no tradition excuses them.
- Drug possession, drink-driving, carrying knives or weapons and hate crime are all criminal offences.
- Anyone needing help can turn to Citizens Advice, free and independent.

8.8 Tax and civic duties

- Your National Insurance number is personal and needed to work; contributions build entitlement to the state pension and some benefits.
- Income tax is normally deducted at source through PAYE; the self-employed and those with extra income file a self assessment return by 31 January online.
- Jury service is a duty: anyone on the electoral register can be called.
- You can drive at 17 (16 for a moped); you need a valid licence, insurance, vehicle tax and an annual MOT for vehicles over 3 years old.
- Non-UK EU licences must be exchanged within the applicable time limits once you settle in the UK.

8.9 Your role in the community

- Serving as a school governor, or on a school board in Scotland; as a volunteer magistrate; as a Special Constable.
- Donating blood and organs; supporting charities with time or money.
- Taking part in politics: joining a party, campaigning, standing in local elections.
- Caring for the environment: recycling, cutting waste, walking or using public transport.
- The handbook's message: citizenship does not end with the certificate, it begins with participation.

8.10 The UK and the world

The Commonwealth · A voluntary association of countries, mostly former Empire; the King is its Head; it has no power over members

United Nations · The UK is a permanent member of the Security Council, with a veto

NATO · A collective defence alliance: an attack on one member is an attack on all

Council of Europe · The human-rights and rule-of-law body behind the European Convention on Human Rights: a separate thing from the European Union

European Union · The 2013 handbook describes the UK as a member state. Since the handbook: the 2016 referendum, and departure on 31 January 2020
